Burndown Charts/Velocity Chart Since Post-Pivot:

Note: The number of tasks here are notably less than the story metrics. This is because the velocity chart doesn't take into account tasks that multiple members completed together (since JIRA doesn't have that option and we didn't essentially duplicate those tasks for each member until regrettably late), while the story metrics do.

Note: It's very difficult to see, but at the very end of the chart, there's a spike in completed tasks that leaves only two tasks incomplete. The completed tasks added were mostly tasks to do with code cleanup and final preparations. Zooming in on the very end of the end of the graph shows this:

Dates: 4/18 - 4/25
